

anonymity = cowardice

Under the protection of anonymity, it's easy to say things that are monstrous and destructive. Once the blindfold is removed, everyone seems to think twice about saying those same words.

How would you feel if they knew it was you who created the monster?

Be accountable for what you say. Own what you think.

www.ownwhatyouthink.com